Holy Spirit Conviction

A teacher at Sherman Elementary School sat down with Joey (name changed) to counsel him after the Bible Lesson. Joey was out of breath and trembling. After going through Scriptures thoroughly and clearly, Joey began to cry and put his face in his hands and then pulled his shirt up over his face crying. For the first time he realized he was LOST in his sin. At that point, the teacher was crying more than he was, Hallelujah!! Joey prayed for salvation. At checkout, Joey's mom cried and said thank you over and over for being there and leading Joey to Christ. It was a moment the teacher will never forget.

Glory to God!

A Football can be Blown Off Course

At a recent event, a lady shared that as a ten-year-old at her Good News Club, someone shared with her that emotions are like a football, set and ready for the kickoff. The ball on the tee is fine, steady, grounded until the wind or someone comes along and kicks that ball. The football is like our faith in God, we can be grounded and steady until that gust of wind comes along and blows us off course. Pray for children in our clubs for God to get them and keep them grounded in their faith in Jesus Christ.

NKY CYIA Rebeca from Brazil shared:

CEF was an opportunity that God gave me. I think a phrase that defines this time well is to live the gospel. Many times, we want to preach the Gospel, and we don't know very well how and the CEF in addition to teaching us, reminds us of this order of the Lord. My favorite part was listening to a child give his life to Jesus. This was without a doubt my favorite part. The training was beyond (what I expected) being able to hear such precious truths and learn how to apply them.

Summer Ministry Reflections

There's no I in Team

Teens and young adults from N. KY, around the state, and even Brazil came together for eight days to study, learn as a team, and grow together in their faith at Christian Youth in Action Training in June. Six Jr. CYIA students attended three days of training in Williamstown in May. Teams of students worked together as CEFNKY summer missionaries reaching over 525 kids with the Gospel and discipleship at 5-Day Clubs and a county fair. Praise God for all our CYIA students. Join us in prayer as we continue to pray for our students to continue to grow in their daily walk with Christ.

"I am charged to be Christ's Ambassador" Thoughts from 5-Day Club Host Karen Mason

What a privilege it was to serve alongside CEF's enthusiastic and well-organized summer missionaries as I hosted a 5-Day Backyard Club this summer! God truly blessed the club by bringing in both my own grandchildren and our neighborhood children. The excitement of having a special event, was a happy setting for presenting the unchangeable truths of God's Word. Several of the children have no opportunity to attend Sunday school.

Even though we live in the "rich" American culture where the Bible ought to be accessible to everyone, so many people have not heard the truth nor do they own a Bible even in affluent neighborhoods. The wrong kinds of spiritual leaders in the guise of video games, movies, "science," self-esteem, and a mishmash of worldviews are happy to offer "answers" to kids. CEF is continuing to offer the biblical unchanging truth.

A few of the children took advantage of the special spiritual counseling offered in order to get answers to the perplexing problems they face in this broken world. Three of these children said "yes," they do believe and want to follow Christ. I am continuing the relationships with these families.

I'm so thankful for the practical help which CEF provided in opening the door to eternal conversations. I am charged to be Christ's ambassador. CEF offered an open door through which I could walk to participate in presenting His amazing message of reconciliation. (2 Corinthians 5:19 - 20.)

We at CEFNKY praise God for Hosts and Volunteers who have a passion for reaching children with God's truth.

It's Time

Youth groups and their leaders are starting to plan next summer's youth group trips. Will you consider Christian Youth in Action as an excellent addition or option to youth camp? Students will learn life-long skills to share their faith with family, friends, co-workers, and anyone God leads their way! Contact us for more information and a visit to share about this exciting and fulfilling opportunity for your students.
